Egypt Urges Negotiations To Find Suez Settlement

Ike Says Draft Is 'Indispensable'

Stevenson's Statement Military Program Is 'Wasteful' Hit Hard

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says that selective service is indispensable under present conditions and "loose talk of soon ending the draft" would be construed abroad "as letting down our guard."

Without mentioning Adlai E. Stevenson by name, Eisenhower issued a statement obviously replying to the Democratic presidential candidate's contentions that the draft is "wasteful" and "inefficient" and should be ended "at the earliest possible moment consistent with the national safety."

"To call the draft wasteful and to term it a Maginot Line," Eisenhower said, "evidences either ignorance of our military needs or a willingness to take a chance with our nation's security."

In another statement issued by the White House Sunday at Eisenhower's request, Atty. Gen. Brownell said the economic prosperity which he said has come under the Eisenhower administration has helped to lessen the menace of communism here.

Eisenhower himself took it easy during the weekend as he prepared for his next major broadcast and televised campaign address in Pittsburgh Tuesday.

SUNDAY HE attended services and received communion at the National Presbyterian Church as part of a worldwide observance of Communion Sunday.

In his draft statement, he said, "The United States is maintaining its military strength to safeguard the American people in their homes, to deter hostile attack at home and abroad, and to encourage the prospect of world peace. This administration is determined to continue that strength."

Noting that the armed services now have about 2,800,000 men, he said "selective service is indispensable" for an armed force of more than 1 1/2 million men.

Both total military manpower and draft calls have been cut since the Korean War ended, he said, partly because of the greater firepower of new weapons.

Various military programs have been set up, he said, to give young men choice without waiting for the draft to plan their futures.

The claim that prosperity has affected communism was based on what Brownell called an admission by William Z. Foster, Communist party chief in this country. Foster wrote in the Daily Worker Aug. 26 that prosperity has done more to restrict the growth of the Communist party in the United States than any other factor.

Zionists Rap Ike's Policy

Middle East Program In 'Total Collapse'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Zionist Organization of America has adopted a resolution saying that United States policy in the Middle East is in "total collapse."

The action came after the two major candidates for the vice presidency appeared before the group Sunday.

Republican Vice President Nixon said the promotion of Israeli-Arab peace is one of the Eisenhower administration's "top priority objectives." Democratic Sen. Estes Kefauver said that in the Middle East, the administration has "failed to develop any approach to peace in a grand design."

The two candidates spoke at different times before the Zionist Organization.

Nixon said U. S. policies in the Middle East should be kept out of partisan politics; Kefauver said those policies allowed Russia to gain a Mideast foothold.

NIXON SAID both major parties agree on a need for preservation of Israel's independence.

"I know you will agree with me that for this issue to become a partisan one in the heat of a political campaign will serve neither the interests of Israel or the United States," he said.

Kefauver said that "without reaching a solution as to Suez we have also managed to alienate some of our most important friends." He said the administration has displayed a lack of firmness, and that it has bobbled opportunities ever since the Geneva summit meeting.

Australian Cattle Said Radioactive

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Cattle 400 miles from the scene of Britain's current series of atomic tests in Australia are reported affected by radio-activity.

The British have exploded two atomic devices at the Maralinga testing grounds in South Australia and are to set off two more soon.

The cattle were slaughtered at Hamilton Downs station, northeast of Maralinga. A Geiger counter check of their thyroids after the cloud from the blast passed over the station reportedly gave a radioactivity count of 3,000 instead of a normal 30.

Nehru Lambasts Reds In India

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru Sunday leveled a vehement attack at India's Communists.

Addressing Congress party workers at Alipore, he declared: "It's sheer foolishness to think communism will solve India's problems. It will only result in violence, class war, hatred, civil strife and nothing else."

"The Russians," he added, "made Stalin their God but after his death called him a tyrant. This is the result of adopting the wrong patch."

British-French Plan Rejected By Cairo Aide

U.N. Security Council Told Nasser Regime Insists On 'Rights'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Egypt today rejected the British-French Suez proposal, but suggested the creation of a negotiating body to seek a settlement of the dispute.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi told the U. N. Security Council that the British and French had merely reintroduced the proposal of the first London Conference on the Suez which already had been turned down.

"We do not think it wise or profitable to re-introduce proposals which already have been rejected," he said.

The plan, submitted to the council last Friday by Britain and France, called on the council to endorse the London recommendations for international control of the 103-mile waterway and urged Egypt to use these recommendations as a basis for negotiation.

In expressing Egypt's willingness to create a negotiating committee, Fawzi outlined these main objectives:

"1. ESTABLISHING a system of cooperation between the Egyptian authority operating the Suez Canal and the users of the canal, taking into full consideration the sovereignty and the rights of Egypt and the interests of the users of the canal."

"2. Establishing a system for the tolls and charges which guarantees for the users of the canal a fair treatment free from exploitation."

"3. Providing for a reasonable percentage of the revenues to be allotted especially for improvements."

While these points made no specific reference to international control, they did call for international cooperation in operations.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles has been trying to see whether there is an acceptable basis on which Egypt will negotiate. He feels that any such basis must guarantee against the canal's ever being used as an instrument

Pope Innocent Receives Honor

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Innocent XI, a humble prelate who dared oppose the mightiest ruler of Europe, has been beatified 267 years after his death.

Pope Pius XII proclaimed him "blessed" and entitled to public religious honor in a glittering ceremony Sunday in St. Peter's Basilica.

Beatification is the church's second degree of sanctity and usually is a step toward canonization, the process of enrollment among the saints.

Coal Union Backing Trend Toward Big Firm Mergers

CINCINNATI (AP)—Merger of the nation's coal business into a few big firms is expected and even courted by the coal industry's labor organization, the United Mine Workers Union.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, has put an accent on improving industry efficiency to pay for rising wages and worker benefits and says industry combinations will help advance that cause.

This police has been made clear by Lewis during sessions of UMW convention sessions here, which resumed today for a second week.

Lewis told the convention that the new era of peaceful labor negotiations in the industry, contrasting with the former period of bitter strikes, is making possible larger combinations of coal producers.

The UMW chief said the industry trend toward a few big operating firms is to be desired, not blocked. He said the pooling of capital, purchasing and managerial talent could only result in lower industry costs and enable producers to pay miners greater benefits.

"These great combines now being formed in the industry are able to save enormous sums of money,"

NATO Unity Split By Suez Dispute

Dulles Outline Of U.S. Stand Said Worrying British, French

WASHINGTON (AP)—The basic unity of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance (NATO) has been dangerously shaken by the split between the United States and its British and French allies over handling of the Suez Canal dispute.

American diplomats said today the situation is probably worse than most people realize and that it will not be quickly repaired. They discounted European speculation that it stems from election year instability in American diplomacy and blamed it instead on basic conflict of interests.

Secretary of State Dulles may try to bridge over the split in New York this week during work with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau on a Suez settlement.

After earlier backing Egypt's right to make a case against Britain and France in the Security Council, Dulles put the United States squarely behind the British-French position on the substance of the issue Saturday when he supported their demand for U. N. endorsement of international control of the Suez Canal.

LAST WEEK an apparent Dulles blunder in a news conference and the stormy reaction which followed it in London and Paris brought to the surface the bitter fact which now confronts the Western governments.

It is that on issues involving what Dulles called the colonial area the Western Big Three are almost certain to find themselves split time and again. A check of informed opinion inside the State Department bore out the impression that the differences are fundamental and must be expected to remain as sources of friction for years to come.

The consensus inside the State Department is that the basic resistance which Dulles showed to risking war over Suez would have been the same without the election year political pressures and so would his concern with the problem of colonialism.

It was this problem which Dulles dwelt on at a news conference Tuesday. His later revision of his remarks did not persuade American diplomats that he had not been right in the first place. They say he may have been indiscreet, but not in error.

The essence of Dulles' argument was that when the United States, Britain and France and other Allied countries face issues concerning the North Atlantic area they are bound by treaty to settle them along certain lines. But when problems arise in the area of colonialism, he said the United States follows a "somewhat independent role." He thus put his finger on the thing which really has the British and French upset.

Auto Kills Man Near Bloomfield

Pete Collins, 31, South Bloomfield, was killed instantly today at approximately 1:15 p. m. when he was struck by an automobile as he was attempting to cross road 23 near his home.

Witnesses told the sheriff's department that the victim darted onto the highway, ran back to the curb and then again ran into the highway directly in front of the northbound car.

The driver of the car was not immediately identified.

Weather Is Clear In Most Of U.S.

CHICAGO (AP)—A bright belt of clear weather stretched across most of the nation today.

Seasonably warm weather prevailed from the Dakotas to Lake Michigan southwestward to New Mexico. In this area the mercury averaged about 12 degrees higher than on Sunday.

Meanwhile, a cool air mass ranged over the eastern portion of the nation from the Atlantic seaboard as far west as Texas. Temperatures were in the 40s in the north to near 60 in the south.

High readings were forecast for the eastern Great Lakes, Ohio Valley as warm air moved southward, pushed by a cool air mass from Canada.

Lockbourne Pilot Parachutes Safely

COLUMBUS (AP)—A Sabrejet all-weather interceptor plane crashed near here today after First Lt. William E. Mayberry bailed out and landed unhurt.

Lockbourne Air Force Base said the single-engine F86D, attached to the 87th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, was on a "routine training flight."

State highway patrolmen returned the 31-year-old pilot to the base. Mayberry lives with his wife and two children in Columbus.

The ship crashed about 10 a. m. between Bristol and Shawnee in Perry County.

This idea was suggested by Pat Walker, of Rockville Center, N. Y., who has a theory that in a few million years all of the men in the world will be bald-headed. If this happens it'll certainly be a catastrophe. It'll throw thousands of barbers out of work, ruin the Hair Oil Industry and make a bum out of Liberator. My colleague, Dr. Schweine, is so concerned about this Prophecy he's going to fill a huge Time Capsule with hair and bury it, so that future generations won't think we had spinach or sauerkraut growing out of our heads when they see our pictures in Ancient History Books.

Don Larsen's Perfect Game Defeats Brooklyn By 2-0

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankee Pitcher Don Larsen pitched the first perfect World Series game in history here this afternoon, allowing no runs, no hits—not one opposing player to reach first base.

The spectacular performance gave the Yankees a 2-0 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the fifth game of the annual fall classic. The Yanks now lead the Series standings 3-2.

With Sal (The Barber) Maglie toiling for Brooklyn, the scoring ice was broken in the fourth inning when Mickey Mantle connected with a home run. The Yankees got a second run in the sixth on three singles and a sacrifice.

Here is the way the linescore looks:

Brooklyn	000 000 000—0 0 0
New York	000 101 000—2 5 0

Brooklyn started the 36-year-old Maglie against Larsen before another big Yankee Stadium crowd of about 68,000.

Maglie had won the Series opener at Ebbets Field while Larsen had started the second game for the Yanks.

Maglie and Larsen each held opposing batters to no hits during the first three innings of play. It was in the fourth frame that Maglie was touched—then by a Mantle homer.

The play by play follows:

First Inning
Dodgers: Gilliam was called out on strikes. Reese went out the same way. Snider lined out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning
Dodgers: Robinson grounded out. Hodges went down swinging. Amoros popped out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning
Dodgers: Furillo flied out. Campanella was called out on strikes. Maglie flied out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning
Dodgers: Gilliam grounded out. Reese bounced out. Snider was called out on strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning
Dodgers: Furillo flied out. Amoros grounded out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning

Seventh Inning
Dodgers: Gilliam grounded out. Reese lined out. So did Snider. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Eighth Inning

Ninth Inning

Casey Stengel has managed the Yankees to 35 Series victories. The record is held by Joe McCarthy, who had 29 with the Yanks and one with the Chicago Cubs.

This is a great batting series for the old men. Enos Slaughter, 40-year-old, is hitting .467. Jackie Robinson, 37, has a .357 average. Peevie Reese, 37, and Roy Campanella, 35, each show .333.

Six of the 10 pitchers who have batted have come through with hits. The hurlers with one safety apiece are Mickey McDermott, Tom Morgan, Tom Sturdivant and Don Larsen of the Yankees and Don Bessent and Roger Craig of the Brooks.

Prior to today's game, the Yankees had one more hit than the Dodgers—36 to 35. But they had compiled 59 total bases to 33 for the Brooks. The Yanks had a big edge in homers, seven to three.

Attorneys for Lightfoot and Scales contend in advance briefs that the section is unconstitutional on its face and "represents the first congressional attempt to apply the abhorrent doctrine of guilt by association."

But, say government lawyers, "the crime punished by the section is not mere 'association.'"

"The crime consists in the individual's personal participation in a combination aimed at forcible revolution, with knowledge of this end and intent to reach it," government attorneys declare. "The liability is personal, not vicarious. It is for conduct, not mere status."

Ike To Be Hailed

NEW YORK (AP)—A gala 66th birthday party for President Eisenhower will be presented on CBS-TV from Hollywood and Washington at 9 p. m. Saturday.

Stevenson aides said he set up the long-distance conference calls to whip up enthusiasm for "Dollars for Democrats Day," which is Oct. 16.

Party workers in every precinct are going to rally forth then, ringing doorbells and asking contributions of anything from one to five dollars.

Two conference calls were set up for the one-way conversation. On the first, Stevenson arranged to have his voice heard simultaneously by 24 state chairmen in the East. A half hour later it was the turn of the western half of the country.

Governors Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and George M. Leader of Pennsylvania and Senators Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Albert M. Gore of Tennessee will meet Stevenson Thursday night at a rally in Oakland, On Friday, while Stevenson is addressing a midday rally at Fresno's courthouse, his helpers will fan out in light planes to rallies of their own in the area. Friday afternoon they plan to link with him again at Long Beach. They split up once more, then rendezvous Friday night at a San Diego rally.

of the national policy of any country.

Dulles had a 90-minute talk Sunday night here with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

British and U. S. spokesmen said Lloyd and Dulles were in full agreement on "the completion of the presentation" of their governments' viewpoints to the council.

The spokesmen said Dulles and Lloyd also discussed the next steps to be taken by the canal users' association and the question of canal tolls.

American ships are now paying tolls to Egypt while the British and French are putting the money in special blocked bank accounts.

The British and French want the users' association to take over collection of tolls, reimbursing Egypt from them for use of the canal.

A British spokesman said his government was confident the United States would also order its ships to pay SCA rather than Egypt as soon as the association was operating.

6 Persons Hurt In 2 Sunday Auto Accidents

Six persons were injured, none seriously in two traffic accidents northwest of Circleville Sunday afternoon.

In the first accident, at 1:15, 20 miles northwest of here on Clark's Run Rd., Charles R. Vandine, 16, George Sloan, 17, and James Sloan, 21, all of Mt. Sterling, suffered lacerations and bruises. They were treated by Dr. M. Sterling physician.

The accident happened when a pickup truck, driven by Vandine, went off of control on a curve, swerved off the road, went over an embankment and hit a telephone pole. The front end of the vehicle was heavily damaged.

The other accident, at 4:05 p. m., on the Harrisburg-Darbyville Rd., approximately 15 miles northwest of the city, sent three persons to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus for treatment.

DALLAS Morrison, 21, Sabina, suffered a fractured right shoulder and back injuries. Eleanor Yinger, 18, and Ronald Yinger, 15, both of Mt. Sterling, suffered arm and back injuries plus multiple lacerations.

The car, driven by Morrison, went out of control on a curve and swerved into a ditch. The vehicle was badly damaged.

Both accidents were investigated by the sheriff's department.

Fernald Plant Construction Moves Slowly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Work on the expansion of the Atomic Energy Commission's reactor fuel plant at Fernald, Ohio, is somewhat behind schedule, AEC personnel reported today.

But a commission spokesman said it was nothing serious and that the delays have not affected production in the main facility.

The government is spending $20 million to expand the Fernald installation near Cincinnati.

An AEC representative said the work, being done by the Maxon Construction Co. of Dayton, may be finished early next year.

Delays were attributed to three main reasons: (1) A brief strike by sheet metal workers last spring; (2) failure to receive prompt deliveries of certain pieces of equipment and (3) frequent rains.

The Fernald plant, like those at Paducah and St. Louis, processes uranium ore into a metal that is used as fuel in AEC reactors around the country.

Both the Paducah and the Weld-on Spring plant at St. Louis also are being expanded. The AEC says those projects, too, are a little behind schedule but are expected to be completed next year.

Requiem Mass will be sung Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Joseph's Catholic Church by Msgr. George Mason. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Honduras Election Marked By Gunfire

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Supporters of acting President Julio Lozano today claimed a victory in a constituent assembly election marked by police and troop gunfire which killed one person and wounded nine. About 40 shots were fired in five minutes.

The National Union party and its Reformist party allies announced they had won 38 of the 56 seats in the polling Sunday.

Dr. Villeda Morales, head of the Liberal party, was exiled last July on charges of seditious agitation. He is now living in Costa Rica. His followers charged that they were prevented from voting in outlying districts.

Logan Elm Gathering Hears Chief's Philosophy Lauded

The world today needs to turn back more to the ideals of the "Golden Rule" and less of the pagan idea of "survival of the fittest."

That was one of the high points in a talk delivered yesterday by Cecil Roebuck, past district commander of the American Legion and main speaker at the annual Logan Elm celebration. Held at Logan Elm Park south of Circleville, the event sponsored by the Ohio History Day Association drew a large gathering.

The 44th anniversary program was in charge of Circleville High School.

World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — All four candidates in this campaign are doing their best to catch the nation's eye. All have used radio and television some. And they've been aiming straight at newspapers' front pages.

The aiming sometimes has been pretty shrewd. President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson both got a lot of mileage out of their argument over ending the draft and the H-bomb tests.

In 1952 Eisenhower was credited with hitting on a surefire voter appeal — particularly to parents — with his promise to go to Korea, if elected, to try to end the war.

This year Stevenson certainly knew he had an appeal to parents when he talked of ending the draft, although all he really said was that the draft should end when it's safe to end it.

Perhaps because the campaign issues are pretty thin, he has repeatedly made headlines with his draft proposal, plus his suggestion for ending big-scale nuclear bomb tests if other nations agree to do the same.

Eisenhower did equally well in opposing Stevenson's ideas.

Without opening his mouth as a candidate, Eisenhower as president issued separate statements on the draft and the H-bomb.

If he had issued one statement covering both subjects he would have made front pages for one day. Instead he made all the Saturday papers, morning and afternoon, with his explanation late Friday against ending H-bomb tests.

Then, with a statement Saturday against ending the draft, he made all the Sunday papers.

Stevenson has been spinning around the country at a feverish pace, making half a dozen or more speeches a day to little groups and big crowds.

That not only lets him talk directly with a lot of people; since he's followed everywhere by newsmen, he's assured of attention in the newspapers and on news broadcasts day and night. He has been in the news practically every day since the campaign began, far more than Eisenhower, who has said less.

Vice President Nixon and Sen. Estes Kefauver, working just as hard as Stevenson in their day-by-day barnstorming around the country, are also accompanied by newsmen from the wire services and the big newspapers.

Marine Fliers Told To Send Families Home

IWAKUNI, Japan (AP) — The commanding general of the U. S. 1st Marine Air Wing says 500 wives and children of his men are preparing to leave Japan after being reminded their residence here is against Marine Corps policy.

Some of the dependents reportedly feel the order to leave is a violation of their right to travel and live where they please on U.S. passports. The Marines brought their families here at their own expense.

Brig. Gen. David F. O'Neil said his Marine Air Wing advised its personnel of an order issued last March by Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, Marine Corps commandant, that families may not "accompany nor later join" Marines assigned to the Far East.

Army, Air Force and Navy personnel are allowed to bring their dependents to Japan. The government provides transportation, housing and schooling for those of above sergeant's rank who remain abroad three years.

The Marines secured their own housing for dependents.

Ex-Con Arrested In Coffee Shop

CLEVELAND (AP) — Out of Ohio Penitentiary only seven weeks after serving five years for burglary, Richard Eucker, 27, was arrested by East Cleveland police Sunday.

Sgt. Anthony Lanese and Patrolman David Bidman said they surprised Eucker behind the counter of a coffee shop when they became suspicious because glass in the door was broken.

90-Year-Old Newsmen Hailed For 35 Years Of Reporting

WADSWORTH, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Newspaper Women's Assn. has cited 90-year-old Mrs. Hattie Krout of the River Styx community near here for her 35 years of newswriting and because she is probably the oldest newspaper woman in Ohio.

Until five years ago, Mrs. Krout, a widow, was a working newspaper woman, gathering news of the River Styx community of about 200 people for three neighboring newspapers and typing it on her 35-year-old typewriter.

ONWA, the 54-year-old state organization of working newspaper women, presented the oldest member of their profession with a marble based desk set bearing a figure holding a lighted torch aloft. It is inscribed "O. N. W. A. Salutes Hattie Krout."

"I don't know why these women did this for me," Mrs. Krout said. "They don't even know me. All I did was just my job and I loved every minute of it. This trophy is so beautiful, I'll be getting up in the middle of the night to look at it."

Mrs. Krout's grandson, Bob, a college student, has lived with his grandmother for four years. Her only son, Lt. Col. Leo Martin Krout, is retired from the U. S. Army and is working for the U. S. government in Paris.

Mrs. Krout lives in a large seven-room house which once was a stage coach tavern. Of Irish ancestry, her grandparents came from Chester County, Pa., in 1808 to take up some land at Pike Station, then a stage coach stop which now is Creston, Ohio.

She was born in Seville, Ohio, where she attended school and was graduated from Wadsworth Normal School. She taught in Medina County schools before her marriage.

Until her retirement five years ago following an attack of pneumonia, she was a notary in addition to her newspaper work.

ABOLISH INCOME TAX? NO ONE COULD be Commissioner of Internal Revenue without getting a realist view of human nature and politics.

Because of circumstances just mentioned, it is obvious that he has no illusions. He does not expect to be elected. Nevertheless it is interesting to take note of the chief plank in his platform which is abolition of the federal income tax, which he collected while in office as commissioner.

Last May, in U. S. News and World Report, he authored a feature article which argued that "the income tax is bad." It is evident that he has given much study to the proposition. He collected more than $18 billion in taxes and then resigned after 33 months' service, completely disgusted with the inequities and faults of the system.

His chief point was that the law is used to enforce social reforms, "soak the rich," etc. In fact his indictment was thorough and workmanlike. Any effort to abolish the federal income tax would be like one or more of the fabled "labors of Hercules." There are too many potential objectors to make such a reform come easily. Yet it is well that Mr. Andrews is in the field to dramatize the issue, in the hope that there will be some improvement.

As it stands now, the federal income tax, with its debilitating rain on free enterprise capital—and ultimately the national economy as a whole—is a temptation to the spenders. It creates a vast slush fund for socialistic projects and for unlimited give-aways for domestic and foreign consumption.

TRESSES ARE BACK THE LADIES, the hair of some of whom has been looking as if it had been sheared by an overhead fan, are going to wear their tresses long again. That's the word from the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, whose interest in the matter is somewhat more than academic. The hairdressers say they're tired of putting up with the imported "gamin" bob which made a fetish out of uneven, short-cropped hair and prefer a return to something feminine.

They're putting out the word that to be really smart this season milady will wear her hair long enough to be curled or brushed up at the back. That portends that females will be tardier for appointments than usual as they give their locks those 50 extra brush strokes. Most men, however, will agree it's worth it. American women were meant to have long hair and look unnatural without it. Their ancestors wore their hair proudly down over their shoulders, twisting the tresses into a tight bun when the occasion required. Let the Europeans have their

These Days

One of the most serious problems in the 1956 Election is the emphasis placed by the politicians upon the so-called minorities and their relationship to the balance of power in a particular state. With so much noise made about the minorities, one wonders what element in the population is the majority.

Population in this country, particularly in the large cities, is in such a state of flux and has been for the past 20 or 30 years that general assumptions are usually wide of the mark. The so-called Jewish vote did not exist before Franklin D. Roosevelt became President and then could only be charted in the sense that districts in which Jews were numerous had formerly been Republican and with the advent of Roosevelt became Democratic.

Professor Lawrence H. Fuchs of Brandeis University, writing in "The American Political Science Review," said of this: "Paradoxically, the most urban of all our citizens, American Jews, have not divided their presidential vote along class lines, and became highly educated during the 1930's and 1940's. At the same time, they drastically switched their predominant major party choice from the Republican party to the Democrats. And within the group itself differences in income or occupational prestige appear to have been of practically no significance in the formulation of presidential vote preference since 1936."

However, with regard to 1952, Professor Fuchs wrote: "In 1952 all segments of Truman-Wallace strength except Negroes shifted somewhat to Eisenhower. But analysis of aggregate returns from Jewish areas and the results of national surveys show that the Jewish defection was slight indeed. In Jewish Assembly Districts in New York City, in Boston's Ward 14, in Hartford's Wards 2 and 4, in Cleveland's Ward 27, in Pittsburgh's Ward 14, and in Cincinnati's Ward 13, Stevenson appears to have matched or increased the Truman percentage of the two-party vote."

"It was primarily in the suburbs that inroads were made on the Jewish Democratic vote—in such places as Westchester, New York; Newton, Massachusetts; and West Hartford, Connecticut. In the present election, it is not altogether apparent whether this particular vote will be more favorable to Eisenhower than to Stevenson. Involved are many side issues, namely the attitude of the Administration toward Israel-Arab arms shipments; the failure of the Administration to appoint a Jew to the Cabinet, although one might regard Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC as practically holding Cabinet rank, and the Secretary to the Cabinet, Maxwell Rabb, is Jewish, as is I. Jack Martin, one of President Eisenhower's Administrative Assistants and formerly Bob Taft's Administrative Assistant.

On the other hand, the Liberal Party, which is influential in New York and is principally Jewish, is an anti-Communist, Fabian Socialist element and has endorsed Stevenson and the entire Democratic ticket. The Republicans in New York nominated Jacob Javits for the United States Senate in the hope of offsetting this trend which could prove to be a balance of power. The Democrats countered by nominating Robert Wagner who in his own right and by inheritance is held in high esteem among the Jewish people.

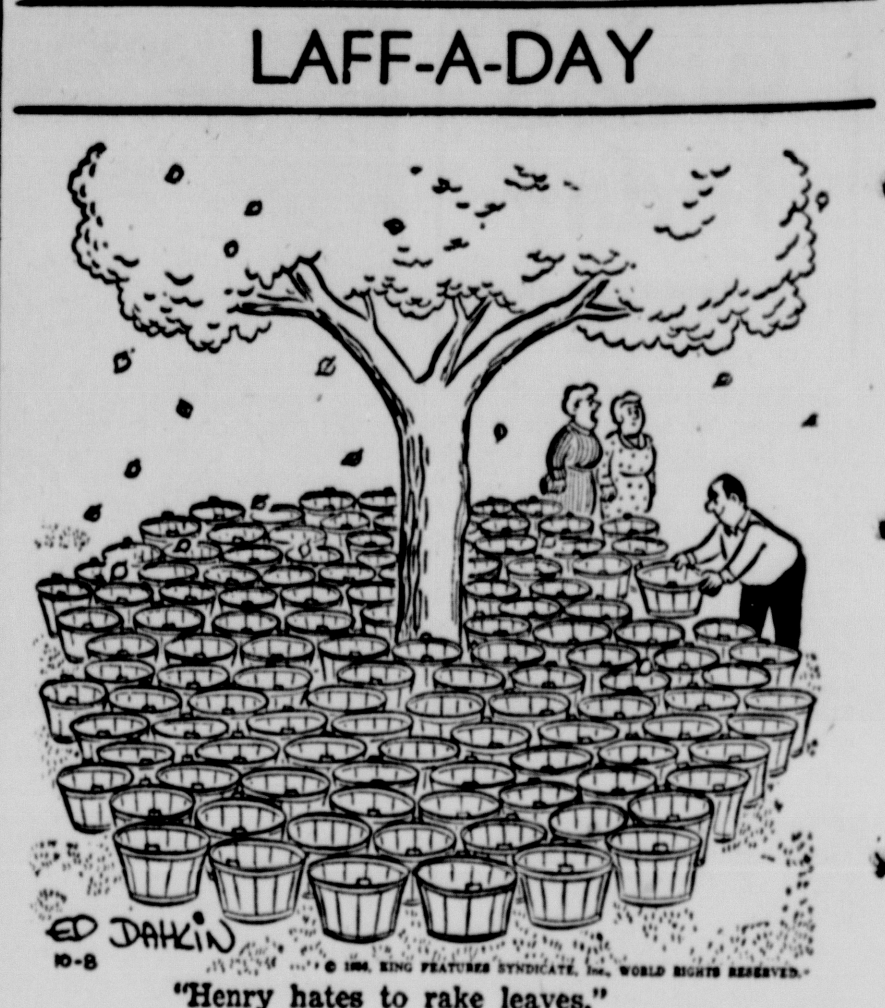

gamin bobs. They must have a reason for them. But in this country, with its oceans of sweet scented soaps and armies of cosmetologists, there's not much sense in defying nature.

HOSTAGE by ARCHIE JOSCELYN

CHAPTER 30 "That seemed like a mighty bad break at the time, getting caught. But the way it's working out, maybe it's a lucky thing. I'm a big man here now. It could maybe be the same for you." "What do you mean?" "Well, it was kind of a mistake, our kidnappers you. We were after the major's sister. You both rode white horses—and I hadn't ever had a good look at her, and none at you. That could seem like a bad break for you, too." "Are you trying to tell me that there's anything good about it?" "There can be," he said easily. "When we get ready, we'll sweep this country as clean of whites as it was before Lewis and Clark had their look. And that'll be pretty quick now." "You talk like you were an Indian!" she said scornfully. "I am. I tried to be a white man for quite a while, but they wouldn't give me a chance. Finally they chased me here. But that's a lucky break, for I like it here, and I'm an Indian, all right, from now on. Just as much as any of them."

"You're a renegade!" Oates shrugged. "Call it what you like," he said. "Words don't make any difference. What I'm trying to tell you is that you're lucky to be here, and that I like you. The other way, you wouldn't have stood any chance, when the sweep starts. But if you start in, right now, treating me nice, maybe it'll turn out to be the best piece of luck you ever had." "If you come any closer, one step," Narcissa said distinctly. "I'll scream. And I seem to be under the protection of the chief! He at least is what he pretends to be, and no renegade." Oates scowled. It hadn't been his notion, but Man Walks Alone had decreed that, so long as she was held as a hostage, she was to be well treated, and that included everyone alike. Such ideas sounded strange, voiced by a red Indian who was getting ready to lead his people in a war of extermination against the whites. They'd already stepped beyond the pale in making her a prisoner. There should be no restrictions on conduct—particularly his own—from here on out. Maybe it was such ideas that made him a renegade. Oates flushed darkly at the thought, and strode off, angrily. He was discovering that there were codes by which these people lived, and if they differed from the code of Overwork: Killing Disease?

By CARL HARTMAN (For Hal Boyle)

PARIS — Doctors think too many Frenchmen are working too hard, and France is going to do something about it. The average Frenchman is not a fellow who takes two hours for lunch and spends the afternoon winking at girls on the Champs Elysees. He really works. This goes too for school kids cramming for examinations and for elderly ladies bogged down in the complexity of pension forms. The French take it all harder than you might think. The man in charge of remedying the situation, at the behest of the French Academy of Medicine, is Dr. Hugo Biancani. In addition to handling a prosperous medical practice, Dr. Biancani is an enthusiastic amateur or semiprofessional at painting, writing, philosophizing, wine making, gardening and social service. He also likes to take long country walks and he maintains he isn't overworked himself. He has been named director of a new organization, the Institute for the Study and Prevention of Overwork. It plans to set up a clinic and research laboratory in Paris. "Overwork," Dr. Biancani says, "is the disease of our century. It's worse than cancer, because by the very nature of things it hits the leaders of our society. Look at your President, Eisenhower. What do you think was at the bottom of his heart attack? Or President Roosevelt. When things happen to men like that, it causes a disturbance to our whole society." Dr. Biancani says it's not just too much work that causes the kind of exhaustion he is trying to cure. Also involved are the kind of work, the individual's attitude toward it, and the whole environment in which he lives. It's quite possible, he says, to

A business session was conducted by Mrs. Leo Morgan. Reports were made concerning a rummage sale, held by the club, and the philanthropic work the group has done during the year.

Program for the evening was "Loosen Mother's Apron Strings." Mrs. Robert Barnes read an article concerning the subject, stressing that children learn by means of example, experience and explanations.

Every child needs the security of being loved and wanted and consistently controlled, but he also needs to feel sure that he is being allowed to become gradually more and more independent of his parents.

At the close of the session refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess.

21 Attend Meet Of Salem WSCS

The Salem Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the church with 21 members present. Mrs. Donald Hildenbrand led the devotionals. She took the scripture lesson from the book of Psalms.

The group sang "There's a Wilderness in God's Mercy" and "In Christ There Is No East or West," following which they offered a prayer in unison.

Mr. Don Alcorn was in charge of the meditation entitled, "Volcanoes in Southeast Asia." Mrs. Vera Miller and Mrs. Ira Barr sang "Beneath the Cross of Jesus."

Mrs. Fairy Alkire, president, conducted the business session. The treasurer's report was given and the group reported that four sick calls had been made. The members planned to have a Rummage Sale, November 3.

Decorations were in the Halloween theme as the hostesses: Mrs. Darl McAfee, Mrs. Ed Evans and Mrs. Fairy Alkire, served refreshments of ginger bread and whipped cream.

EUB Church Unit Conducts Meeting In Spangler Home

The monthly Christian Endeavor meeting of the East Ringgold Evangelical United Brethren Church was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Spangler.

Nineteen members and 11 visitors attended the meeting, which was opened with group singing followed by prayer, offered by Anna Kaiser.

The business session was conducted by the president, Ruth Allison. The secretary's report was given and the roll was called. Closing prayer was offered by Ruth Peters.

Games were enjoyed by the group after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Spangler, assisted by Mrs. Eldon Neff and Mrs. Harvey Seitz.

Monroe Council Holds Session

The Monroe Home Demonstration Council met in the Ladies Aid Hall in Five Points for the first session of the year.

Mrs. Lyle Davis gave a talk about the Home Demonstration work in the county and how homemakers can profit from the work.

The schedule for the coming year was planned and the leaders for various workshops were appointed. Mrs. Harvey Brigner and Mrs. Loring Stoer were appointed leaders of the workshop "Let's Eat," to be held November 20 in Circleville.

Announcement was made concerning the meeting for October 25, for all councilors and secretaries in the county.

Those attending the session were: Mrs. Lyle Davis, Mrs. Harvey Brigner, Mrs. Thomas Carter, Mrs. Ray Harden, Mrs. Ralph Dennis, Mrs. Noah List, Mrs. Loring Stoer and two visitors.

The meeting of November 30, to begin at 1 p. m. for the session on "Making Wood Fibre Flowers," is open to anyone interested in attending.

Fixed Ceiling On Campaign Spending Asked

DiSalle Proposes Law With 'Real Teeth' To Ration Expenditures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, former OPA price controller, wants Ohio election campaign spending rationed.

The Democratic nominee said that "upon his election as governor" he would seek a law with "real teeth" fixing a ceiling on money that candidates and committees could spend.

Republican leaders said the proposal violated the traditional right of free speech.

Ohio law now limits the personal spending of candidates but campaign committees can spend all they can raise.

Besides putting limits on spending, DiSalle's proposal would require committees to obtain the written consent of candidates they favor and allow nominees opposing office holders more spending money than other candidates.

The former Toledo mayor, legislator and U. S. senatorial candidate outlined his proposal while campaigning in the vote-heavy Cleveland area, a Democratic stronghold.

DiSalle and other party leaders are attempting to swing the Nov. 6 election with lavish campaign spending. GOP spokesmen claim there is nothing wrong with raising more money than their opponents.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, Republican nominee for governor, was unavailable for comment but Rep. Roger Cloud of DeGraff, House speaker in the GOP-dominated Legislature, did some pinch hitting.

"It is entirely proper to seek laws which might limit total expenditures in a campaign," Cloud said in a statement, "but it would be indefensible to attempt to restrain the voting public from a full effort directed toward promoting and publicizing their convictions."

"Such restrictive acts on the part of government surely would be in violation of the traditional right of free speech and a direct infringement upon the full exercise of the right of franchise."

"I would be completely opposed to the enactment of any statute which would forbid citizens, or groups of citizens, from expressing opinions or engaging in voluntary political actions, either for or against any candidate or issue."

"It would seem particularly wrong to select candidates, whether incumbents or not, who would not be given the same opportunity to present their causes as would other aspirants to office."

Outlining the spending limit proposal DiSalle said he would call on the Legislature to enact the Democratic candidate said:

"The ceiling will apply to the total expenditures by a candidate and by committees working in his behalf. No committees will be permitted to enter a campaign without the written consent of the candidate it proposes to support. . . .

"The level of expenditures should be realistic enough to permit an adequate campaign and an honest compliance with the law. However, real teeth should be included in the law to permit law enforcement officials to secure compliance."

"It might be necessary to provide a higher level of expenditures for those who are attempting to unseat incumbents, since incumbents have natural benefits as the result of holding office. The abuse of excessive spending cannot be permitted to continue if we are to preserve democracy in action."

DiSalle then saw a threat to democracy in what he termed "every effort to unduly interfere with the orderly expression of the people of their opinion." He added:

"Attempts to saturate means of communication with the propaganda of one candidate and one political party deprives the people of the opportunity of making a fair appraisal of the issues."

He described "wholesale invitations to either free or cut-rate suppers" as lavish expenditure and continued:

"A candidate who heavily obligates himself during the course of a campaign can never properly represent all of the people he is sworn to serve."

Cloud and some other GOP members of the Legislature expressed belief that DiSalle's proposal placed him alongside Democratic leaders they said "believe devoutly in governmental management of almost everything."

"It is evident," Cloud added, "that Mr. DiSalle has not recovered from the effect of his days spent as administrator of OPA and is still convinced that the public must be regulated and governmentally protected to the extreme."

DiSalle was OPA administrator during former President Truman's administration. He now practices law in Toledo.

Ohio law limits personal expenditures of candidates for governor to $5,000, candidates for other elective state offices and U. S. Senate to $2,500 and congressional candidates to $2,000.

But campaign committees are not limited on spending in their efforts for or against candidates

Play Based On Cleveland's Family Gets Good Review

By MARK BARRON
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—An extraordinarily good comedy of family life in Cleveland, Ohio, has been fashioned by playwright John Boruff from Ruth McKenny's novel, "The Loud Red Patrick." As presented to an appreciative first night audience Wednesday night at Broadway's Ambassador Theater, it seems destined to stay there a long while.

It has much the same delightful mood of "Life with Father." Father (spelled in capital letters) is the principal character in both plays.

There isn't much plot to "The Loud Red Patrick" for it is a simple, or rather far from simple, story of the normal family life of the Flannigan family in Cleveland in 1912.

There is Patrick Flannigan who has come over from Ireland with a great hatred for such public utilities as gas and water works. He also has considerable trouble with such an inconvenience as the telephone. He is a widower with four young daughters ranging in ages from a 5-year-old moppet to 17-year-old Maggie who is a pretty, nice and willing to get married only with papa's consent.

But this Patrick Flannigan is a revolutionary. He had never been able to attend school or college himself in Ireland, so he is determined that daughter Maggie or issues. Both candidates and committees must report campaign contributions and expenditures to the proper officials.

Officials can deny certificates of election, necessary for winners to take office, for failure to file the required reports. But officials say it is virtually impossible to penalize committees for failure to file such reports.

William L. Coleman, Marysville attorney and DiSalle's Democratic state chairman, recently asked O'Neill to check on all campaign spending to prevent wrongdoing.

O'Neill replied that he lacked such authority. He said it was up to county prosecutors to make such investigations.

Optometrists Eye Advertising Ban

COLUMBUS (AP)—Advertising by optometrists, who examine eyes and prescribe glasses, would become "grossly unprofessional conduct" under new rules proposed by the State Board of Optometry.

The board could withhold, suspend or revoke licenses for such advertising under the proposals.

Board Chairman Mervyn Kaulh of Cleveland scheduled a public hearing on the sweeping revisions here Saturday.

Besides placing a general ban on advertising, the revised rules would make it "grossly unprofessional" for optometrists to operate in connection with jewelry and department stores and with opticians who make glasses.

Rapid growth of the Circleville and Pickaway County Girl Scout Council has forced supervisors to seek more adequate camping facilities.

For more than a decade, county Girl Scouts have called "Scippo Lodge" their camp home. But this camping spot, located adjacent to Gold Cliff Park south of Circleville, now is inadequate to handle both the increased registration and the expanded program.

"Scippo Lodge" was built in 1946 under the guidance of Mrs. M. E. Noggle, camp chairman at that time. It has been the pride of local Girl Scouts since. The site was officially named "Camp Tah gah jute"—the Indian name of the famous Mingo warrior, Chief Logan.

During the last 10 years, troop and day camping programs have been held at "Scippo Lodge" and Girl Scouts from the entire county have played roles in its passing history.

When the lodge was built in 1946, there were 10 Girl Scout troops and 142 registrations. Now there are 34 troops and 402 Girl Scouts. This fall, 139 new girls will be brought into the county program.

Faced with the need for more space for camping, the executive board of the Circleville and Pickaway Girl Scout Council has appointed a camp site committee, headed by Mrs. John Downs. Other members of the committee are: Ralph May, John Dunlap Jr., Robert Adkins, Hewitt Cromley, Harold Defenbaugh, Robert Bausum, Charles Radcliff, William Heiskell Jr. and Donald Archer. The group is working with Mrs. Glenn Hines, county camp chairman.

Leaders of the Girl Scout program believe that six to ten acres of land will be needed to provide an adequate camp area. The old Scippo area was limited to one acre. The new site should be well-drained and partially wooded, the leaders said. Proposed sites are being investigated at the present time.

Until a new camp site is secured the local program is being presented at various temporary sites. Among sites other than Scippo used in the last two years have been the Ashville Community Park, Bus Palm Park, Logan Elm State Park, farm land along Deer Creek owned by John Dunlap Jr. and a site owned by Orin Clarke Stout.

Stressing the need of a camping area, local leaders stated that camping contributes to the physical and mental well-being of a girl; it helps develop resourcefulness, initiative and self-reliance; it stimulates the appreciation of the out-of-doors.

Injunction Is Sought In Grain Dispute

WASHINGTON, C. H. (AP)—Two Fayette County grain growers Saturday filed an injunction suit asking that the county treasurer be restrained from collecting personal property tax on stored grain.

The court action also asked for a declaratory judgment to determine ownership of wheat delivered to an elevator under contract with the Commodity Credit Corp.

Rollo M. Merchant, grain grower and an attorney, and Glenn L. Smith, a grain grower, filed the court actions. Judge John Case took the matters under advisement saying a decision on the request for the temporary injunction may be given today.

The grain growers contend they are not owners of the wheat on which tax statements are based since they have delivered the grain to the government and have received payment.

The State Board of Tax Appeals now has under advisement an appeal on the same subject made by Attorney Ray Maddox of Washington, C. H. Maddox owns a farm operated by a relative and protested personal property assessments on stored grain.

The state tax department had ruled previously that the Ohio taxes against grain are legal.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 19 and Jim is 20. We have been engaged for a year, and during that year I thought I knew and understood him completely. We used to have a lot of fun, see each other twice a week and on weekends; and he'd phone me every night. He was considerate, showed affection and tried to please me.

Lately he is a changed person. For the last month I've seen him only on Saturday nights, and on these occasions we usually stay home. Otherwise he may telephone occasionally, but always to say that he is going out with "the guys." I didn't mind that, as I too like a night to myself; but I've learned that wherever he goes, the others are paired off—either engaged or going steady. He goes alone.

Right now it seems he is trying to prove he can date and do as he pleases, which of course is right—but why the sudden change?

I love Jim very much and I am convinced he loves me too. He won't even think or talk of breaking off, because I mean too much to him, he says. Maybe I am spoiled from the affection I used to get; but still I feel he could act as if I mean something to him.

R. S.
DEAR R. S.: As I get the pic-

Sokolsky's These Days

There are no indications from measurable data that there is any change of attitude between 1952 and 1956 and as this could influence the results in several states, the politicians are naturally concerned. Professor Fuchs makes an interesting point concerning Jewish College Communities, as they select this vote. He says:

"At least suggestive of the importance of immediate group contacts for the Jewish vote in 1952 are the results of polls taken at Yeshiva college and Brandeis University. At Yeshiva, a school which is 100 per cent Jewish, Eisenhower received a mere four per cent of the vote. Brandeis is a non-sectarian Jewish-sponsored school. Probably as much as 10 per cent of the student body there is not Jewish. In the Brandeis poll Stevenson received 88 per cent of the vote."

This minority type of voting is a heritage of Roosevelt's fragmentation of the American population. It served him adequately in at least three of his four elections and it may continue to plague the United States for years to come. Undoubtedly the task of education is to eliminate the concept of racial and religious minorities.

'Salome' Dancer Dies At Age 76

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Maud Allan, the controversial dancer who shocked the world nearly 50 years ago with her portrayal of a flimsy Salome passionately clutching the papier mache head of John the Baptist, is dead at 76.

Miss Allan, bed-ridden for nearly two years, died Sunday at a rest home.

She created a sensation when in 1908 she appeared at London's Palace Theater clad in diaphanous veils to dance her "Vision of Salome."

She was a pioneer in aesthetic dancing in revealing costume, but was modest compared with today's bubble and fan dancers. She always defended her dances as pure art.

The blood of the average person leaves the heart, circulates through the body and returns in a matter of one minute.

ture, it seems fairly obvious that Jim is enamoured of some other guy's girl for the time being. That's why he goes alone (leaving you home), where the others go in boy-girl pairs; and why he treats you almost as a stranger when you are together—as if signifying (for the other girl's benefit) that he isn't very committed to you.

Evidently he hardly knows what to do about his feelings. He hasn't dared to try forthrightly to undercut the other guy, I take it; for if he had, the crowd would know what's up, and why he neglects you nowadays. They wouldn't be asking you questions. Also I gather it's true that you do still mean a great deal to him—but you just aren't the one-and-only in his day dreams recently.

The British philosopher Frank J. Sheed, writing of man-woman relationships in his spiritually luminous book "Society and Sanity" (Sheed & Ward), has a viewpoint that may steady you through this crisis. He remarks (page 161): "Desire for one woman may momentarily eclipse love for another, and the eclipsed love can outlast the desire, so that a moment comes when the love is in full possession again, and the dead desire seems mere emptiness and degradation."

Sound counter-action begins in being aware of the nature of Jim's problem. Such awareness will enable you to discern the identity of his new interest—after which you can work out a day-to-day campaign, of stabilizing mutual fondness in the teeth of storm signals.

Ohio Hog Prices Average Lower

COLUMBUS (AP)—Prices paid for hogs at the interior Ohio livestock markets last week averaged 45 cents per hundred pounds less than the previous week.

Demand throughout the week was fair to good but some resistance to any strength in the live prices was evident with many of the market interests, the state bureau of markets reported.

Monday and Tuesday prices of $16.50 on the average No. 2 butchers was steady with the previous week's low close and Wednesday and Thursday's price was down 25 cents more, at $16.25, for the same grade. Friday's price of $16.50 and close for the week was the same as the previous week's close.

Pickaway And Ashville Win, Hold Lead In County Loop

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Sports Editor

Despite Saturday night's high winds and heavy rains, six-man football games at the Fairgrounds saw Pickaway and Ashville emerge victorious to remain tied for first place in the county grid circuit.

In the other game of the windy evening, Stoutsville edged Jackson in a real thriller. Plenty of hard-hitting and fast running was displayed in all three contests.

Pickaway, in the first battle of the night, had a hard time subduing a stubborn underdog Darby team, 33 to 28.

With Whitson hitting paydirt twice, including an 80 yard run and Gutheil once, the Trojans commanded a 19 to 13 lead at intermission time. Touchdown runs by E. H. D. Wolfe accounted for Pickaway's first half score.

SHORTLY after the second half got underway, Whitson romped for his third TD to give Darby a 26-13 margin. However, two quick touchdowns by E. H. D. Wolfe and one successful try for extra point put the Pirates out in front 27 to 26.

The final Pickaway tally came in the last quarter on a scamper by E. H. D. Wolfe, his third six-pointer of the evening. Darby collected two points in the same stanza on a safety.

Ashville, leading 29 to 0 at the end of the first half, went on to notch a 42-0 victory over an outmanned but fighting Walnut squad.

Bronco first half touchdowns were by Miller, Bartholomew, Hollenback and B. Newton plus a field goal by Cromley.

With rain coming down steadily in the third period, neither team was able to score. The winner's last two TD's were in the final stanza.

One of the six pointers was by Miller, his second of the game. Due to the heavy rain it was impossible to see who scored the last Ashville touchdown.

THIRD contest of the night between Jackson and Stoutsville, also played in the rain, saw the Indians come out on top 13 to 12 in a close one all the way.

Having trouble handling the slippery pigskin in the initial quarter, neither the Indians nor the Wildcats could get into the end zone for a score.

However, with the rain letting up a little, both squads shifted their offenses into high gear in the second period.

Jackson drew first blood, with Dave Petty going over for the first score. The Indians tied it up a few minutes later when Bill Martin scampered the length of the field. The try for point was good, giving Stoutsville a 7 to 6 lead.

The Wildcats, roaring back with vengeance, regained the lead on a touchdown by Ernie Milburn. The try for point was unsuccessful and the scoreboard showed Jackson 12, Stoutsville 7.

The winning tally for the Indians came in the third quarter on a touchdown romp by halfback Richard Bussert.

THREE more games are slated for next Saturday night with the highlight of the evening being the battle between Ashville and Pickaway to decide the league leadership.

The two teams are currently tied for first place in the loop with identical records of three wins and no losses. The game is scheduled for 7:45 p. m.

At 6:30 p. m. Walnut meets Jackson in what should prove to be a close battle all the way. Darby, improving with each game, tangles with Stoutsville at 9 p. m.

Minnesota Getting Eye In Big 10

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten teams, suspiciously eyeing Minnesota's surprising Gophers, head into major conference activity this week.

The Gophers, victors over Washington and Purdue, take on Northwestern while Ohio State is at Illinois, Indiana at Michigan State and Wisconsin at Iowa in conference activity.

Outside the family, Michigan is host to Army and Purdue invades Notre Dame for what should be an interesting battle.

Minnesota overcame a 14-7 half-time deficit and whipped Purdue 21-14 for its opening Big Ten success. Only a week earlier, Minnesota had trampled Washington, a 28-13 victor over Illinois.

Michigan State strengthened its bid for the conference title by edging stubborn Michigan, 9-0. Ohio State continued to ride the road to victory with a 32-20 triumph over Stanford; Notre Dame defeated Indiana, 20-6; Iowa rallied to edge Oregon State, 14-13; Tulane beat Northwestern, 20-13, and Southern Cal nipped Wisconsin, 13-6.

Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan State and Ohio State are the only undefeated teams among Big Ten members. Both Michigan State and Minnesota are expected to keep the slate clean but Iowa could run into trouble against Wisconsin as could Ohio State against unpredictable Illinois.

Rosburg Grabs San Diego Open

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP)—Pudgy Bob Rosburg of San Francisco came from behind to win the $15,000 San Diego Open with a blazing 18-under par 270.

Rosburg was two strokes behind Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, at 54 holes, but he finished with 32-33 on the Singing Hills course Sunday to add to his previous rounds of 70-68-67.

Finsterwald carded a 2-over-par 74, finishing far back with a 277. In the runner-up spot was Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., who shot a 68 for a 272.

Faulk Is Winner Of Women's Meet

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., won her first major golf tournament in two years Sunday when she fired a seven-under-par 69 at Hillcrest and took $880 top money in the Heart of America Open.

Her 214 for 54 holes was three strokes under Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C. Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., was third at 200 and Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., fourth at 223.

Failure To Win On Road May Give Series To Bums

NEW YORK (AP)—If the World Series continues at the present pace, with neither team able to win on the road, the Brooklyn Dodgers will repeat as world champions—in seven games.

The series has followed the exact pattern of last year's, only in reverse. New York's 6-2 victory Sunday behind the surprisingly strong pitching of Tom Sturdivant plunged the series into a 2-all deadlock.

In 1955, the Yankees won the first two games at home and the Dodgers took the next pair at Ebbets Field. The teams continued to win in their home parks until the final game when Johnny Podres broke the string with his brilliant 2-0 victory at Yankee Stadium.

Apparently, a spacious ball park such as Yankee Stadium is not suited to the Dodgers' power, but handbox Ebbets Field is made to order. Except for Duke Snider and Gil Hodges, Dodger hitters are not real long-distance clouters despite their imposing home run record.

In the five series between the two clubs since 1949, Brooklyn hit-

Greenberg Slow Naming Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm not going to name the new manager at the World Series or even a few days after the series ends," General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians says.

In fact, he will set no time for announcement of the selection of a successor to Al Lopez as pilot of the Tribe.

Since Lopez resigned on the last day of the season, only one candidate has been openly in the running and conferred with Greenberg. That is Kerby Farrell, a Tennessean who just finished piloting the Indianapolis club to its second American Assn. pennant in three years.

Jim Tatum, North Carolina football coach, had "his poorest season" in 1948 when his Maryland team won six and lost four.

East Seeks College Grid King But Oklahoma Rockets Along

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College football is looking for a new king in the East, satisfied with the one it has in the Midwest, wary of a new power in the South, but for a national champion—well, those Oklahoma Sooners will do and do very well.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners went their merry way Saturday, rolling up a major college record of 32 straight victories, to the surprise of exactly no one.

Kansas State was the victim and the only question was the score. It was 66-0 in spite of the fact that Wilkinson used five full teams.

If Oklahoma has a challenger for the top billing it assumed last year it will probably come from among Michigan State or Ohio State in the Midwest, Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Mississippi or unassuming Vanderbilt in the South, and one of several Southwest Conference biggies, including Texas Christian, Texas A&M and Baylor.

Southern California, probably the best in the Far West, can be expected to tumble in potential when Jon Arnett and others of its half-season players retire after USC's fifth game.

Michigan State, rated best in the Middle West and No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, and Ohio State, No. 4, used late rallies to defeat difficult opponents.

The Spartans were outplayed by strong Michigan for a half, then capitalized on a pass interception and a recovered fumble for a field goal and a touchdown and a 9-0 victory. Ohio State and Stanford had a scoring match for three quarters before the Buckeyes pulled away to win 32-20.

Georgia Tech, ranked third by the nation's experts, was idle but Tennessee, Ole' Miss and Vandy upheld the prestige of the South. Tennessee, moving back into the national picture under Bowden Wyatt, thrashed Duke 33-20. Mississippi, sixth in the poll defeated Houston 14-0.

In the Southwest, Texas Christian blasted Arkansas, 41-6; The Texas Aggies downed Texas Tech 40-7; Baylor defeated Maryland 14-0; and Rice spilled Louisiana State 23-14.

In the major upset of the weekend, defense-minded Pitt lost to California 14-0 and left the East looking to the service academies for a possible successor to the Panthers as best in the sector.

Ohio State Sports New 1-2 Punch

COLUMBUS (AP)—The snappiest one-two punch in years has carried Ohio State's Buckeyes to two straight grid wins, and could be just the thing to carve out an unprecedented third straight Western Conference crown for Woody Hayes stalwarts.

Sophomore Don Clark and senior Jimmy Roseboro, operating from the halfback spots, are making two-time All-America Hopalong Cassidy just a memory.

As the Bucks escaped from Stanford's potent air attack Saturday with a 32-20 victory, Clark gained 141 yards on 17 jaunts, scored two touchdowns and passed 18 yards to Roseboro for another. Jimmy added the other two TDs on 7-yard jaunts and picked up 56 yards in 13 tries.

The two speedsters, in two games, have carried 26 times apiece, Clark for 238 yards and Roseboro for 171, and each has scored four touchdowns—with only two going to the rest of the squad.

John Brodie, Stanford's accurate armed quarterback, completed 21 of 35 passes against the Bucks for 256 yards and two touchdowns, but three interceptions wrecked Indian drives and turned the tide. The Bucks threw only twice, both in the final quarter, one going for a score.

Don Townsend of Elizabeth, N. J., has been unbeaten in 13 cross-country meets for St. John's University of Brooklyn over the last two seasons.

Spokesman For Underwriters Points To Farm Fire Hazards

Warning Timed With National Observance

U.S. Figures Reveal Electrified Farms Have Many Risks

With the opening of National Fire Prevention Week, Circleville Fire Chief Talmer Wise today called attention to figures just issued by Glenn Rowell of the Fire Underwriters Inspection Bureau of Minnesota.

Rowell is chairman of one of the 14 panels that make up the National Fire Protection Association's national electrical code, the country's most widely adopted safety code. And Rowell declared that four out of every five electrified farms in the United States are loaded with electrical fire hazards.

It is to be assumed, Wise pointed out, that the same percentage would hold for Pickaway County. Since there are nearly five million electrified farms in the nation, about four million would be covered by Rowell's assertion.

MOST OF the fire hazards to be found on America's farms, he said, can be traced to a combination of overloading wires and the use of wiring materials never intended for use in damp or corrosive locations. Rowell explains the problem this way:

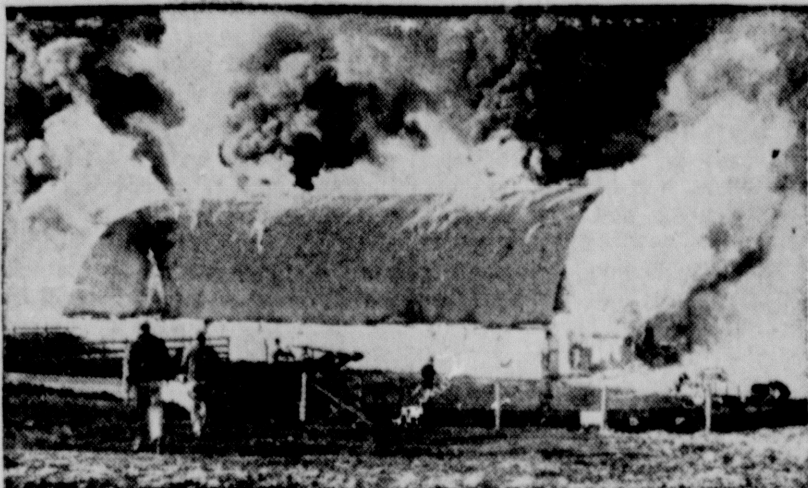

When electricity first replaced the kerosene lamp, in farmsteads, it was looked upon merely as a lighting substitute. The glaring mistake was made in failing to recognize the farm as an industrial establishment, where electrical wiring materials would be subject to moisture, corrosive atmosphere and wide temperature changes.

Electrification grew by leaps and bounds; more appliances, labor saving, profit-making devices were added.

But a farm wired by 100 kilowatt hours per month cannot operate profitably or safely when 350 kilowatt hours are needed each month.

The actual seriousness of the problem is pointed up by these statistics: out of over 40,000 farmstead electrical reinspections in Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas, less than 800 were found free of life or fire hazards!

The answer? Reinspection and a complete rewiring program, says Rowell. And he predicts, the farm load will reach 1200 kilowatt hours per month within the next 10 years.

WHEN THE barn shown above was totally destroyed by fire last year, the direct dollar loss to a Midwestern farm family was estimated to be $50,000. Circleville Fire Chief Talmer Wise has called attention to a claim that four out of every five electrified farms in the United States are full of fire hazards due to neglect and overloading of wiring. This is National Fire Prevention Week.

Uncle Sam Short On Cash; Plans To Borrow New Batch

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncle Sam is pinched for money, too. He's going to borrow another billion and a half to help make ends meet until some expected checks from the relatives arrive.

This billion and a half of new debt will be in addition to the usual weekly borrowing of the same amount by the U.S. Treasury on a sort of continuous renewal plan such as increasingly is used by businessmen — a banking method hardly known to their grandfathers.

Each week the Treasury auctions off 1.6 billion dollars worth of 91-day bills. The receipts are used to pay off an issue for a similar amount coming due them. The auction returns set the yield for that week — a yield that has risen smartly as money tightened. The treasury is thus continuously in debt to the banks by a constant amount.

This week the Treasury will borrow the usual 1.6 billion, but because it is pinched for funds in this season of low tax payments it will also borrow an additional 1.6 billion on similar bills, dated Oct. 17 and payable Jan. 16.

Tight money is back of the two reasons given for the Treasury's turning to more short-term debt: 1. The interest rate on long-term borrowing is too high now; 2. If the Treasury went into the long-term market, as in the past it would have liked to, it would be sopping up any available money in competition with business and making the credit situation that much tighter.

Business as well as the Treasury has taken on a semi-permanent borrower's role at the bank, the economists of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland note.

The bank says the new idea has been especially helpful to new, small or unincorporated firms.

Ohio Socialist Raps Arrest Of Colleague

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Arla A. Albaugh, Socialist Labor party candidate for governor, Saturday night criticized the arrest Saturday of a party worker who was distributing pamphlets in violation of a city ordinance.

Albaugh told a small but enthusiastic audience of party supporters:

"If Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) were to come to town, there might be a parade. For Mr. O'Neill (Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, Republican candidate for governor) there would be a dinner. If President Eisenhower came to Columbus, streets would be blocked off for his motorcade. But when the Socialist Labor party comes to town, it goes to jail."

Albaugh, who posted $25 for the arrested worker, Carl F. Sherard, 70, of Dayton, said his party is "entitled to the same freedoms under law as are the major parties."

Albaugh said he was campaigning to close the office of governor "just as all Socialist Labor party candidates are running to close the offices they win."

Albaugh said the party wants "the political state abolished and an administration of workers set up."

Albaugh, a Cincinnati photographer, is entering the Ohio gubernatorial contest for the fifth time. He urged voters to write his name and that of the party's presidential candidate, Eric Haas, across the face of ballots even though the votes will not be counted. The party's name and those of its candidates do not appear on the Ohio ballot.

Man, 100, Notes Birthday, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walter Moon invited a few friends up to his hotel room Saturday night to help celebrate his 100th birthday.

When hotel manager Jerry Smith departed with the other guests, Moon reminded him: "Be sure and call me for church in the morning."

Smith knocked on the door shortly after sunup, but there was no answer. He went in and found Moon had died in his sleep.

Police Unimpressed By Youths' Stunt

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two youths, picked up by police for sitting blindfolded in the center of

U. S. Highway 90 near the city, said they did it because "there just wasn't anything else to do."

Francis Fahrenholt, 17, and Thomas Lee, 18, were booked with disturbing the peace after officers found them sitting back-to-back in the middle of the road. Parents of the boys said it was just a game. "Trouble with people is that they forget they were kids," said Mrs. Fahrenholt.
